Department of Life Sciences Jointly Organizes

National Conference on “Emerging Trends of Life Sciences In View of Current Pandemic Situation”

Date: 15th May 2021

OBJECTIVE OF THE CONFERENCE

The life sciences sector has played a pivotal role amid the COVID-19 pandemic. To cope with the global crisis, traditional competitors partnered to accelerate research and develop the fastest novel vaccine in the history. Governments, health systems, payers, retail pharmacies, and nonprofits are now working collaboratively with the sector to provide widespread distribution and administration. This National online Conference on Emerging Trends of Life Sciences In View of Current Pandemic Situation will provide an ideal platform and opportunity to share research ideas with the eminent scientists, academicians and policy makers working in various fields of science and technology. The new trends can be applied for the pursuance of research and product development. This online conference consists of invited talks on the focal theme as well as in allied areas to promote research & education in Life Sciences to create awareness about new innovations among concerned students, research scholars & teachers.

OUTCOME OF E-CONFERENCE

The participants are expected to discuss recent findings and new emerging trends in the research field, from this national conference and also expected to provide an interactive platform to the researchers and the scientists. This will be a great opportunity for budding researchers particularly in the local region to explore the new aspects and global relations.
